EMPEROR SHOWA and ST. JOSEPH

EIGHTY-EIGHT YEARS TOGETHER

St. Joseph International School became an independent institution in 1901, the same year that the late Emperor Showa was born. In February, 1989 Emperor Showa died, bringing in the new Heisei era. Thus, our school is now in its fourth Japanese epoch. As The Class of 1989 graduates, let's look back at Emperor Showa and St. Joseph during these turbulent first nine decades of the twentieth century.

Brother Louis Stoltz, the man who founded St. Joseph, was one of the original five Marianists who came to Japan in 1888. Emperor Showa, or Hirohito as he was known while he was alive, was the grandson of Emperor Meiji, who himself had been restored to the throne in 1868. Emperor Meiji's reign was characterized by Japan's rapid modernization, the end to feudalism and military expansion. A key element in the government's program was education.

Yokohama rapidly became the nation's leading cosmopolitan city. Thus, it was the ideal location for the foreign branch of Gyosei Gakuen, which had been established in 1888. Despite the widening influence of progressive Christian ideals, Japan's political leaders studied the 19th century developments and concluded that military might was a prerequisite for a modern nation. The newly formed military was soon unleashed in China and then against Tzarist Russia. As a result Japan became a colonial power, subjugating areas on the Asian mainland.

In 1912 Emperor Meiji died and was succeeded by Emperor Taisho; eleven-year old Hirohito became the Crown Prince. In Europe, a generation of young men, including three French Marianists from St. Joseph, went off to war. During the post-war economic boom Japan and the United States rose to prominence. In March, 1921 Prince Hirohito became the first Japanese emperor to travel abroad. However, upon his return, his father's illness required him to become the Regent.

In Yokohama the exuberance and prosperity of the "jazz-age" was shattered by the Great Kanto Earthquake. Four-fifths of Yokohama was burned and over 40,000 people died. St. Joseph, except for the new (present grade school) building, was destroyed. The school followed the foreign community to Kobe and classes were continued in Sumiyoshi. Then in 1925 the Marianists returned to St. Joseph and Yokohama.

In January, 1924 the Regent married Princess Nagako, the eldest daughter of Prince Kuni, and in 1926 he ascended to the Imperial throne. Soon however, the economic depression fanned nationalist sentiments which led to the deification of the emperor under state-Shinto. International tension mounted and although Emperor Hirohito censured the February 26, 1936 coup attempt, he failed to condemn the military's actions in China. By 1941 the war had spread around the world.

During the war the Japanese military requisitioned St. Joseph and converted it into a munitions factory. Some of the Brothers were repatriated, others imprisoned and those remaining were allowed to run a small co-educational institution in Hakone.

After the atomic bombings of Hiroshima and Nagasaki, Emperor Hirohito asked the people to "bear the unbearable" as Japan surrendered. Stripped of his deity status, Hirohito reached out to the people and became a "symbol of the state." Reconstruction aid and a peace constitution set Japan on the road economic recovery. St. Joseph, thanks to occupation and Japanese efforts, reopened in 1946 and accepted girl students for four years while St. Maur was being rebuilt.

By the time of the Tokyo Olympics, the Japanese economic miracle had been achieved. Similarly, St. Joseph expanded by adding Berrick and Chaminade Halls and thus experienced a growth in enrollment. In the decades that followed; WASC accreditation was achieved, Santos-Center was built, a kindergarten was opened and the school became co-educational.

In 1981, for the school's 80th anniversary, Prince Mikasa - Emperor Showa's younger brother - was the keynote speaker for graduation. Prince Mikasa spoke about St. Joseph and her graduates - with their focus on the brotherhood of man - as playing an important role in Japan of the 1980s.

The death of Emperor Showa and the ascension of Emperor Akihito has ushered in the Heisei (Realization of Peace) era. This same year Yokohama celebrates its 130th anniversary as an international port and 100 years as a city. More than ever before, all of us at St. Joseph need to reaffirm the spiritual and international ideals of the Marianist founders in order to achieve Heisei.

School Administration

June 11, 1989

Dear Senior Graduates of 1989:

Congratulations! You have successfully completed your years of study here at St. Joseph International, and I wish you the best. You have had a very successful year. Many of you have been accepted at universities and colleges of your choice long before the end of this scholastic year. The soccer team was co-champion of the Kanto Plain League. Many of you shared in the glory of that team. (It was naturally a disappointment to you that we were not the champions in the International Schools' Soccer Tournament. That's life.) Many of you participated in various events and activities throughout the year. You have learned very much through your studies and activities. The Principal's Council, composed of many of your teachers, voted to allow you to go to Hawaii for your excursion. Your teachers have confidence in you. Some of you asked to buy your Bibles. I was very pleased by the interest which you took in that study. I hope that you will continually read and pray over it. You definitely have some outstanding students in your class and I wish you the best. Develop your talents to the utmost. Go forth and carry out our school motto: FORWARD!

The very first class I taught here promised to one another that they would come together in Yokohama 10 years after their graduation. I hope that you will do the same. Only God knows what is in store for you between now and then. Come back and tell us about it. May God bless you and keep you always, all ways.

GRADE

Class of '93

Mr. P. Eymard

The 8th grade is one of the most memorable and toughest years of our "school life" at St. Joseph. Most of us have joined various clubs and activities. Even though there is a gap in age, we work together in trying our best to improve ourselves. The 8th grade is the last year of grade school. We would like to keep the beautiful memories of grade school and from next year, as freshmen, we would like to go on doing our best in whatever we do.

8th Graders

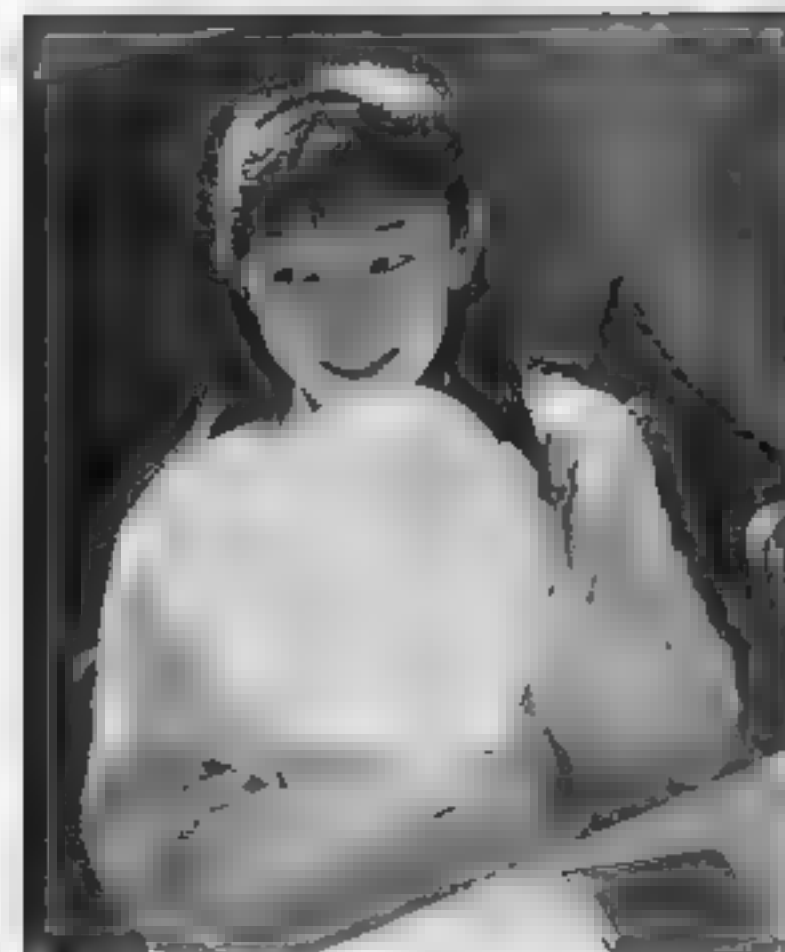

Yeah

Kei Akutsu

He is the fastest runner in our class if we go by age. He likes to wear fashionable socks. Sometimes he is very short-tempered but otherwise, he is the best friend I have.

Morishige

He is the best friend I have.

He is funny and nice. He always does strange things but I like those things. He is tall and intelligent. If he didn't do strange things he would be a real cool guy.

Junichi

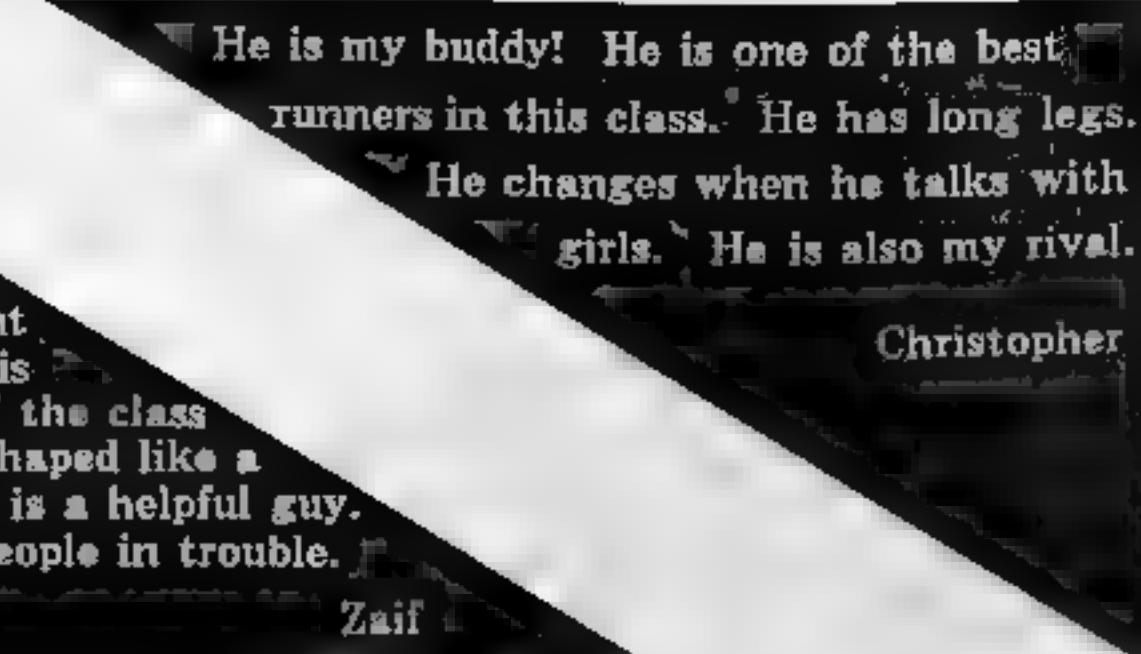

Randy Martin Anderson

Aditya Arora

Aditya loves to play baseball. He even dreams of one day becoming a prominent baseball player. He is called the "turtle" of the class because his head is shaped like a turtle's head. Aditya is a helpful guy. He does things for people in trouble.

Zaif

Christopher

He is my buddy! He is one of the best runners in this class. He has long legs. He changes when he talks with girls. He is also my rival.

Nariomi Chiba

Mariko Endo

You people out there do NOT know what she is and has been doing in class due to the dangling hair that covers up her face and most of her desk! Within her "hair wall" she can do other work, read comics and even eat her lunch, but as a class president we trust that she hasn't and will not in the future do so!!

Yuko

She said YES!

Sean Makoto Eno

He's just... Just in one word CRAZY. He is one year younger than me. Still he is handsome and taller than me. He plays soccer better than I do. His grades are twice as high as mine and his jokes are better. Where do I stand now? Can you tell me his weak point?

Anri

Junichi Fujimoto

Junichi came from the 7th grade. He loves to put "gel" on his hair. He uses about one third of a bottle everyday. The gel he puts on his hair shines which hurts our eyes. He is also very sensitive about people touching his hair!

Zaif

She said YES, too!

Akira Hasegawa

He is not a passive kind of boy. He always tries to make every-body laugh with ridiculous questions.

kenkichi

He said NO!!

Masumi Inoue

Masumi comes to school to write letters. That's why she has a lot of pen-friends. When somebody talks to her, she always mentions NKK.

Hiroko

Anri Kadokura

He is bright and a naughty kid and certainly crazy. Whenever we are together we always fool around. I will have a lot of good time with him in the future.

Sean

Even if she is in distress, she always gives everybody a big smile. It makes everybody happy.

Hazuki

Sumie Kawazoe

Yuko Sakuma

Yuko is the most intelligent student in our class. She helps people and is good at almost any work. She speaks with a British accent, which makes the class upside down. Even though she speaks with a British accent Mr. Eymard has to repeat what she says to the class. Maybe she should speak louder! Enunciation is important! Zaif

He is a good boy (almost a man) but he has a funny personality. I don't know why he likes to play games which are for kindergartners during breaktime. This is request from the boys, "please be kind to boys, not only girls."

Shoaib

Kenkichi Sato

Valentine Day Kiss.

Shoaib Aftab Mian

He is very muscular so he always makes me armwrestle with him. I always have to shout for mercy because he always wins.

Kenkichi

Yoichi Miyazaki

He has a hidden intelligence for management. He is a wonderful merchant.

Maroki

Am I graduating?

Zaif Ur Rahman Siddiqi

He has a sense of humour, maybe a little too much of it but that's what makes him the most unique, popular, funniest, cleverest, kindest person in the class. He's doing a great job as a class officer and the occasional outbreaks of laughter in class are USUALLY caused by him! I guess without him the class would be...DEAD!

Yuko

Maroki Sugimoto

Maroki has a bright character and cheers the class up with his strange sense of humor. He is a very intelligent boy and kind but becomes wild when he talks or thinks about trains.

Yoichi

Hazuki Naito

What she is thinking of each day in class is beyond our imagination, but she has become a very popular girl and her face never seems to be without a smile! She is popular with the boys and she has become the most obvious target for teachers' barbs! Whether this will end soon is very doubtful.

Yuko

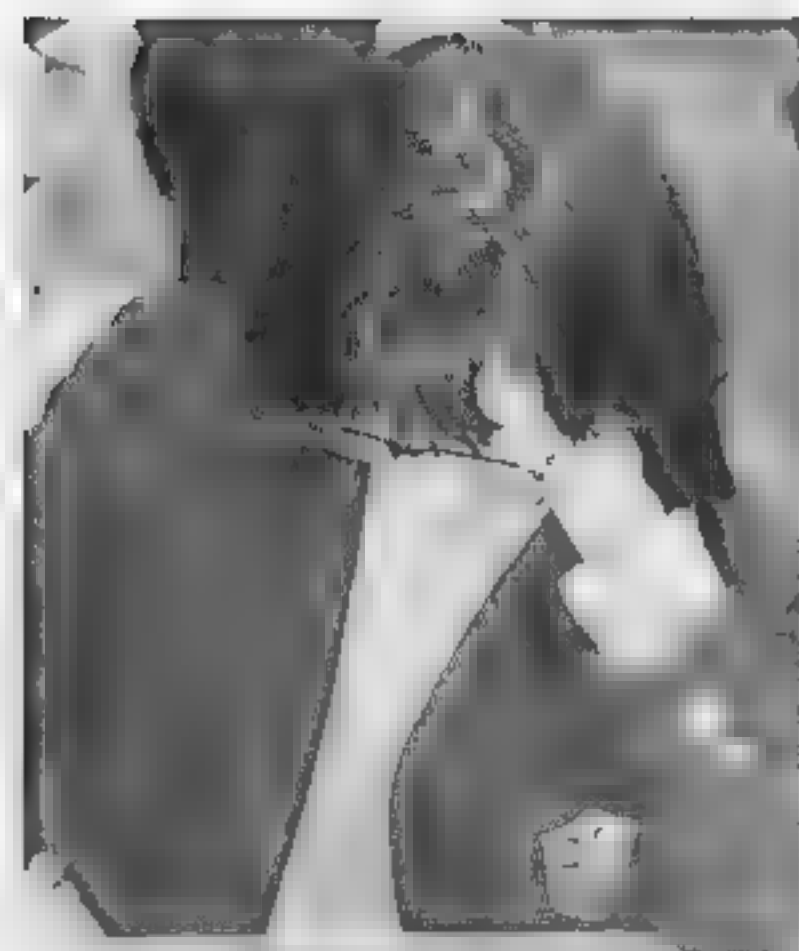

Can't depend on my sisters.

Christopher Roberson

Chris is kind to girls. He likes skateboarding and is very good at it. He is also very funny. He likes to be with Noriomi who is also funny. Chris is fashionable and is one of the handsome students in the class.

Hisako

ZZZzzz..

Sho Sakisuka

Sho cheers up the class by asking a totally unrelated question in class. He is always daydreaming but seems to be imbibing all the information. In a word, he is a hard-working boy.

Yoichi

Morishige Uchida

He is an excellent example of a modern, lazy boy. But he is helpful when we need help.

Maroki

NOW TYPING

Hiroko Watanabe

Though she's a bit quiet in class, she is very considerate to others and is funny and fun to be with. Though many of you don't know it, she is extremely interested in motorbikes and her dream is to ride by the seashore in the moonlight!

Yuko

He thinks He's cool...

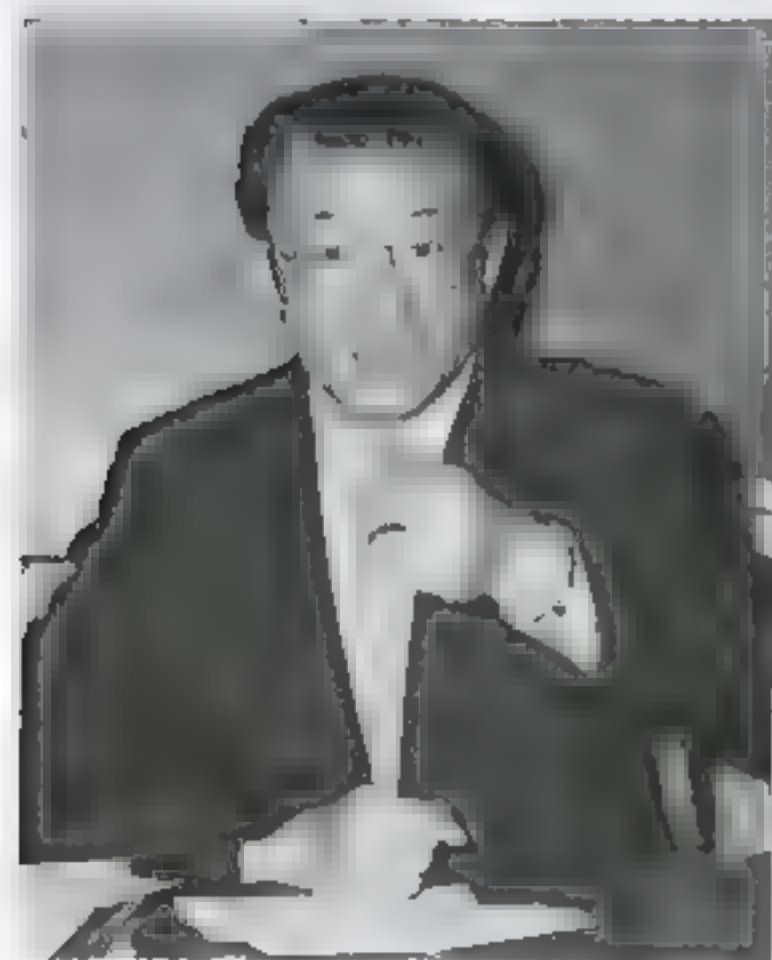

Hisako Watanabe

She is a very smart and nice girl but when she gets angry, she hits people. Whenever somebody makes her laugh she never stops. Maybe, she can win the "laughing" contest.

Noriomi

GRADE 7

Mr. C. Chang

The 7th grade, consisting of 19 members, is a very cheerful class. Led by Hideki Endo (Class President), Francesco Yang (Vice-President), Haris Sair (Secretary), and Ken Francis Lopez (Treasurer), we always try to work together. Mr. Chang, our homeroom teacher, helps us make learning and life at school an enjoyable and memorable experience.

Two new students joined us in February: Choong-Gie Chung and Chris Cho. Both Chris and Choong-Gie try very hard to keep up with the class. And all of us are more than willing to help them.

We have many students who really try their best. Our goal is for all of us to be on the honor roll by the 4th Quarter and thus make Mr. Chang happy. As the old saying goes, "The greatest difficulty come at the start. It's called 'getting ready.'" But in a spirit of togetherness, we will overcome this difficulty and have all our names on the honor roll board.

GRADE 6

Mrs. D. Hori

The sixth grade is an interesting class with 21 students -- 7 girls and 14 boys. They are all very friendly, kind, and helpful. Some students are smart and good at studying, while others are not. This class is famous as a "noisy" class, but when it is time, the students can be serious and well-behaved.

During the school year, the class has gone to the Yokohama Science Museum, Tokyo Disneyland, and Motomachi Elementary School Festival. They had a chance to meet other people, do lots of interesting things, and have lots of fun.

Bro. J. Scheible

Our class has four students who are all smart. Our teacher is Bro. Joseph, who is kind. We like to play but we work seriously almost all the time. We like to draw funny pictures of ourselves or our friends, (Rumi, Kazu, Nao, and Sara). At recess we almost always play tag. It is a lot of fun. Sometimes we fight, and sometimes we get punishments. But we get 100's on our tests. Our class is very enjoyable.

Miss D. Tashjian

Our 4th grade class has eight students: four boys, four girls... I like this class because everybody is bright... We are all silly, curious, and ask many questions to our teacher, Ms. Tashjian... Our favorite subjects are writing and P.E... Our class started origami in our art class. It is fun... This year in January, we sold many things. We sold some books, cassettes, stickers, menko cards, many things. And we sold our things very cheap. It was called a Garage Sale. After we finished the Garage Sale, at recess our class started playing menkos... You play menkos by hitting other menko cards. When you hit and the other card flaps to the opposite side, you could have it... Our boys like gambling with menko cards. Our girls like to play, too, but we don't like gambling. Our girls won't take the cards, and we do by points, or sometimes nothing at all... I like this class... We sometimes fight but we will be friends soon

With continued support from our eighth grade boys we have managed to continue with field hockey. Most of the boys have now been two years and are improving their basic skills. We now have thirteen members, all boys, may I add nine eighth graders, one tenth grader, and four sixth graders.

During the season the boys practiced both indoor and outdoor skills playing mostly small sided games. We have had the opportunity to play at Y.C.A.C. several times, beating our opponents every time. This year the younger boys have also played some indoor games at St. Maurs.

Next year I hope to see more grade school players including girls. A mixed team would be fun too.

Has seen a significant increase in the number of girls playing volleyball at St. Joseph. From a squad of twenty-two very lively enthusiastic girls we had six varsity players, ten J.V. players, and six up and coming grade school players. The girls worked hard during the season as well as off season, improving and maintaining their basic skills working hard at all the ingredients necessary for successful volleyball.

The squads commitment and enthusiasm has been relected in some excellent results against both Y.I.S and St. Maurs. Early in the season our varsity team battled hard against Y.I.S varsity team being beater in every game by two clear points, however we managed to beat Y.I.S varsity team with our J.v. Squad in the First Yokohama International Schools Volleyball Tournament. The score was Y.I.S five St. Joe's fifteen. Our games against St. Maurs at the tournament were very exciting with some excellent play the results were St. Maurs fifteen St. Joe's thirteen.

I hope next season for some splendid results. I'm sure we will do well. (Training starts Wednesday, September 6th. See you then!!)

The Class of '90 is unique. Each student has his or her own personality, and it looks as if everyone's living on their own. But when the time comes — when there's any trouble and an action has to be taken — all Juniors get together and work in unison to figure out the best alternative. When one classmate is in need, there's always another classmate, ready to help. Thus, all Juniors know in their heart that they're all in one, and even one single classmate cannot be separated.

 I've tried, guys. I've done my level best to destroy your ambition to be "the finest class St. Joseph has graduated in twenty years." I've smeared Vaseline on Goro Fujita's telephoto lens, purloined Dirk Guennemann's hoolahoop party book, given Mari Tominaga earplugs in an attempt to frustrate Masako Kikuchi, even told Irene Wong to stop talking to "that boy" in front of her and Hiroaki Seto to stop talking to "that girl" behind him. To no avail. Every missile you've blissfully deflected. But beware! You still have to get by the two big torpedoes: Dr. Sair and Mr. Mystery Man. I was quail shot compared to them.

"Stride high, learning from the past and bravely sculpturing a bright future !" This is our class motto which spells out our main objectives. One of the things we are proud of is each one's personality. Also, we have solidarity. Who cares if there are 18 girls and 12 boys ? Why do we have to be shy if there are more girls than boys ? Of course, we have some bad points, such as not being serious when we should be. We are not perfect, but we are trying our best. We know who and what we are and where we are going; to wit, to a successful graduation and thence to a happy life. One splendid thing we know is the following: We are getting closer and closer to our goal. We are sure teachers and staff will never forget the freshmen year of the Class of 1992 because we keep improving others and ourselves and making everyone in the school feel good by projecting energy, good will, and optimism to one and all at St. Joe's.

CROSS-COUNTRY

We, the 1989 Cross-Country Team runners, have attained great satisfaction from strenuous training and competitive league races at Tama hills. Cross-Country running has shown us that through discipline, hard work, and self-reliance almost anything is possible. Running at first was extremely difficult for all of us but perseverance proved that it was only difficult, not impossible.

The 1988—89 Student council promoted similar events as in the previous years. Despite the fact that this year's Student Government did not have any financial support from the school, we were able to carry out our duty and end the school year with a handsome profit.

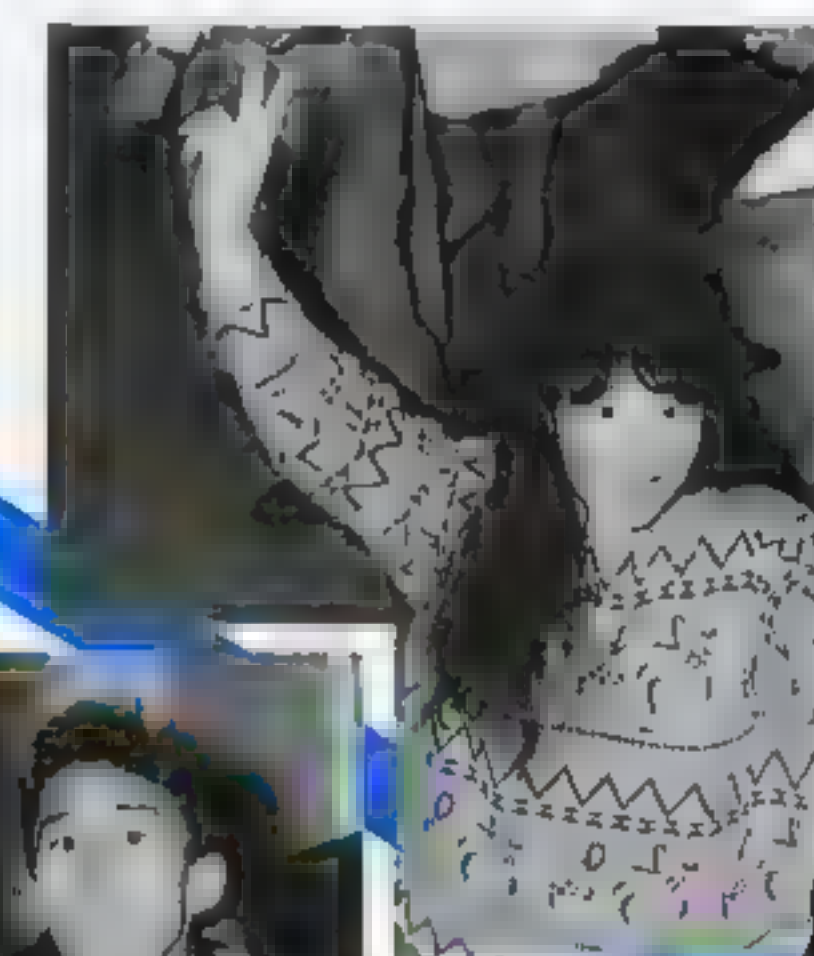

CHAIRPERSON/YASUTOMO KODERA

This year was one of the most successful years we've had recent. The Social Committee sponsored three dance parties as well as a joint dance party with St. Maur, which were all very successful and good experiences for the 69 members. The credit for the success goes to all of the members who worked long hard hours to make sure everything worked. Everybody worked together effieiently to create a great time. My warmest thanks to all of the members for bringing fun to all of the students.

SOCIAL COMM

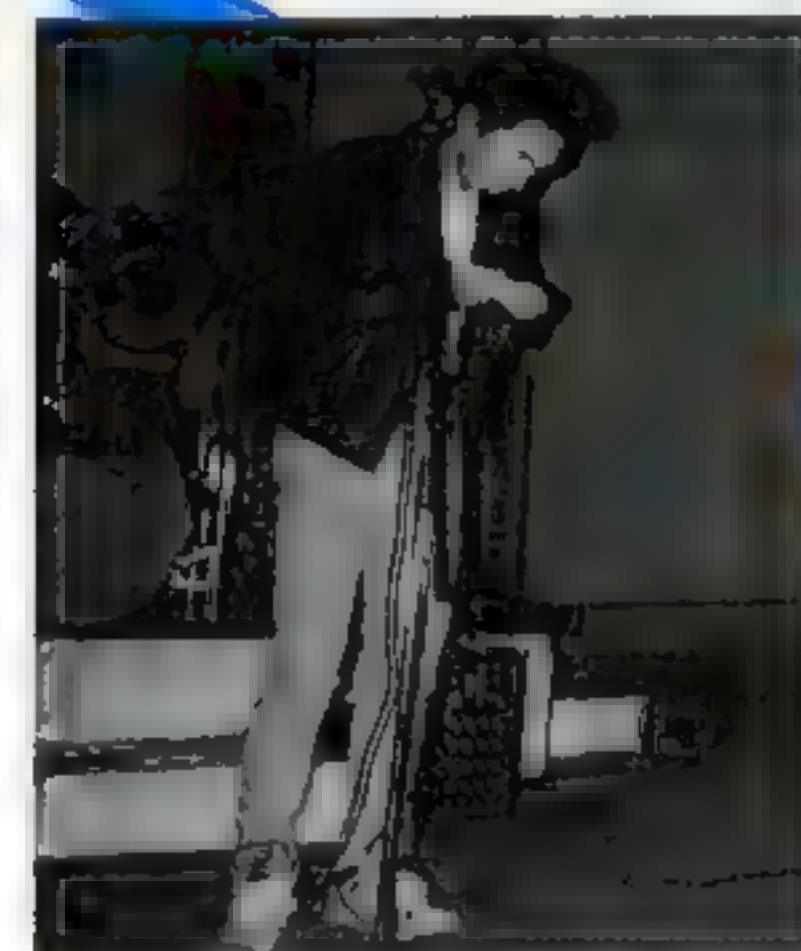

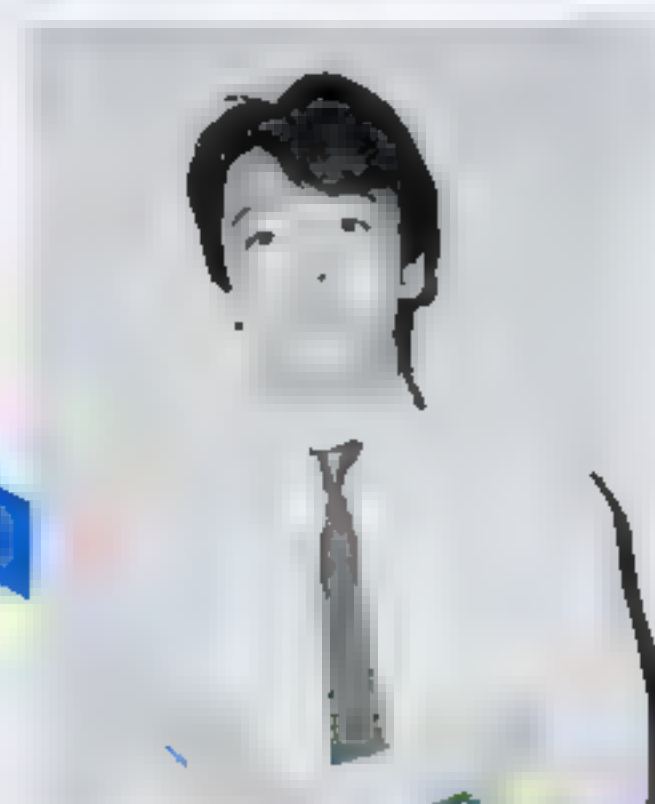

CHAIRPERSON/SHINICHIRO SHUDA

It was rather surprising for me to suddenly become the chairman in October. Although it was a bad start from scheduling the Bonfire, it was one of the most successful in recent years. In spite of the unorganized committee led by the chairman, myself, it was more than I expected.

WELFARE COMM

In spite of the fact that the Sports Committee did not have much to do, we were very successful. Full of enthusiasm and excitement, we managed to have successful intramurals. Anyways, we had a successful year. I would like to thank Mr. Morgan and Mrs. Ward for all their support. Thank you very much!

COMMENTS

In the previous years the members of the Publicity Committee gradually decreased but this year that was not so. We were able to round up some forty plus members, most of who worked hard to make it one of the most successful year. The efficiency with which we worked enabled us to make tickets and posters in time for the dance parties and the Pock Show. I would like to thank the members for their earnestness, comradeship and hard work.

Unit Leader: H. Xiao

I appreciate all my scouts in the Senior Scout unit of I.B.S. Troop One who spared their precious time for all the behind-the-scenes labor—pitching many tents for hours before SJIF, organizing traffic under hot sun, and cleaning up the site in the rain after the festival. I also want to thank my leaders and scouts who helped me to achieve my Globe Scout award. My two years as the Unit Leader have been challenging, yet successful. I wish all scouts and scouters of Troop One "happy scouting" years to follow.

DRAMA

Mr. A. Stavrinaky

This year the SJDC has already put on three works by outstanding playwrights from three different centuries and countries: Christopher Marlowe, Anton Chekhov, and Tennessee Williams. Under the inspiring leadership of President Shin shuda and Vice President Ken Kido this promises to be a golden era in our history. Marlowe's "Dido and Aeneas" will be shown to the public again at YES on May 4th and finally on June 18th at Nishiku Kominkan. Both performances are bound to be enormous accomplishments in the field of drama.

We would like to give thanks to everyone who supported us throughout the long years. Most especially to the Class of 1989, who, no matter what the problem was, managed to help each other out through thick and thin. To our teachers, who somehow found a certain way of making us pass their classes. And of course to our parents, whose love and patience guided us through each and every day. Thank you very much for all the wonderful memories.

To tell you the truth, I had never thought the 1989 FORWARD would come to realization. The staff consisted mainly of the varsity soccer team members and we really could not get the ball rolling until after the tournament in March. Thanks to the effort and hard work of a handful of responsible seniors appearing in the preceding pages, we were able to meet the deadlines. I would personally like to congratulate the dedicated staff, the other seniors, and the underclassmen who helped, and to thank the faculty for their cooperation.
